Form 990, Part III, Line 4a, Program Service Accomplishments: decision upholding the health care law in King v. Burwell. Worked protect women's reproductive health through the Center's innovative This Is Personal campaign, engaging more than half a million millennial women in educational efforts, broadening the understanding of women's health issues to include sexual assault on campus and in the military, and moving the women engaged to complete more than two million actions to protect reproductive health care. Conducted innovative research on the ways some for-profit companies are misusing religious freedom laws to deny women reproductive health care and worked to redress this misuse.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4b, Program Service Accomplishments: economic agenda for women by publishing Our Moment: An Economic Agenda for Women and Families and Moving Women & Families Forward: A State Roadmap to Economic Justice, two reports that lay out a vision and policies for broad, integrated federal-level and state-level agendas, including measures to raise wages, protect a woman's decision-making on birth control and abortion, support workers with family responsibilities, and end workplace and other discrimination. Educated advocates and policy makers about the importance to women of keeping the improvements to the Child Tax Credit and Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) that are scheduled to expire in 2017; improving the Child and Dependent Care Tax Credit and making it refundable; and improving the EITC for workers without qualifying children.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4c, Program Service Accomplishments: confirm well-qualified nominees. Documented, publicized, and offered solutions to the educational discrimination faced by African American girls in a report co-authored with the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund that highlighted the destructive and disproportionately harsh discipline and other barriers to academic success that these girls experience, including pervasive racial and gender stereotypes, high rates of sexual harassment and violence, and punitive measures against girls who are pregnant or parents. Took action to level the playing field for girls in sports, including through the resolution of Title IX complaints filed against the New York City Department of Education and the Chicago Public Schools challenging sex discrimination in athletic programs, and the release of a report focusing on the disparities in sports opportunities faced by girls of color across the country. Worked to improve sexual assault and sexual harassment laws and policies in schools, colleges and universities.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 11:

The Center's Controller does the first review internally by matching all numbers to the financial statements and records, and checking all non-quantitative responses for accuracy before a second internal review is done by the Vice President - Finance & Administration and a third review by a Co-President. The Center's outside legal counsel then reviews the document. The Audit Committee of the Board of Directors thereafter reviews the document, and it is then provided to all members of the Board of Directors before it is filed.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c:

Each year, members of the Board of Directors and key employees are required to complete a form disclosing any interests that may give rise to a conflict of interest. These forms are used to help determine issues on which potential conflicts might arise. In addition, as lawyers, the Co-Presidents are particularly sensitive to potential conflicts of interest and to avoiding even the appearance of a conflict by promptly discussing any potential conflicts with the relevant individuals.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15:

An outside consultant analyzes compensation of officers and key employees based on the annual national and Washington, DC Area survey data on compensation comparability from the PRM Consulting Management Compensation Report, Not-For-Profit Organizations. The survey includes a wide range of organizations, and it gives results according to budget size that are highly correlated to compensation rates. As part of the analysis, the outside consultant reviews the Center's benefits for reasonableness and in comparison to other comparable organizations. The compensation information in the 990s of organizations similar to the Center is also reviewed for comparability. The two Co-Presidents make recommendations to the compensation committee of the Board of Directors on what the compensation of high-level employees should be, based on the outside consultant's report, for approval by the compensation committee. The compensation committee also determines the compensation of the Co-Presidents, based on the outside consultant's report, and the compensation information from the 990s of similar organizations. All deliberations and decisions of the compensation committee are reflected in contemporaneously drafted and approved minutes of the committee.
