Re: Comment from over 4,900 individuals in response to RIN 3046-AB30, Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, Regulations to Implement the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act

Dear Chair Burrows,

We write to express strong support for the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission's proposed regulations on the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act. These proposed regulations will help make the important protections guaranteed by the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act accessible to workers who need on-the-job accommodations for pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions, in order to maintain their health and economic security at a time when their paychecks are most important.

We support the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act because no one should have to choose between their job and their health or the health of their pregnancy. Too often, when a worker needs a minor change in workplace duties or policies because of pregnancy, childbirth, or a related medical condition, she is forced out of work entirely, losing income and healthcare benefits at a time when she can least afford it. Other times, pregnant workers continue to work without needed accommodations—sometimes with tragic results. Congress passed the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act to provide solutions to these workers, by requiring employers to provide reasonable workplace accommodations to pregnant and postpartum workers (and workers affected by other pregnancy-related conditions). By protecting the right to receive reasonable workplace adjustments, the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act will ensure that pregnant workers can continue to support their families without risking their health.

We support the EEOC's proposed regulations, which will help make the rights guaranteed by the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act a reality for the workers depending on them. The proposed regulations explain how the Pregnant Workers Fairness Act will work in practice and provide specific examples that will help workers understand their rights and employers understand their obligations. Importantly, the EEOC's proposal will help ensure that a worker who needs a temporary accommodation because of pregnancy, childbirth, or a related medical condition can receive one quickly, with minimal burden on either the worker or employer. And the proposed regulations appropriately protect workers who experience a wide range of conditions related to pregnancy and childbirth, consistent with longstanding legal interpretations of these terms. These include termination of pregnancy, use of birth control, infertility and fertility treatments, menstruation, and lactation. We urge the EEOC to preserve these elements in its final rule to ensure broad access to the PWFA's protections.

We thank you for your efforts to protect the health and economic security of workers and their families, and we appreciate your consideration of our comment.

Sincerely,
