THE POWER OF US

DEAR FRIENDS,

In just 10 short days, the polls will have closed on the East Coast. Vote counts will begin pouring in, reflecting not just who our next president will be, but how accessible abortion is across the country, how much our country's lowest-paid workers will make in five states, and so much more.

This year, this election, we are deciding what kind of nation we want to be. Not who we are, but who we will strive to become.

These are important questions—with life-changing consequences.

And yet, in spite of this uncertainty, I feel sturdy. Grounded. Ready.

Because here at the National Women's Law Center, we have been preparing for this moment. We are ready for whatever may come. No matter the scenario, we have a plan.

Over the last 52 years, we have worked across moments and movements to make real change for women and girls. Change you can feel in your wallet, in how you're treated at work, at school, and at a doctor's office.

Our roots are strong. With every new supporter, partner, and ally, we become stronger. Each year that we fight for gender justice, we grow more powerful than the last. And friends, we have been doing this work for more than a moment.

I am not afraid of the road ahead—whatever it may be—because I know what’s behind us.

As author and activist James Baldwin once wrote: “Not everything that is faced can be changed; but nothing can be changed until it is faced.”

This year at the National Women’s Law Center, we’ve seen change—real change—in the lives of women and girls because we faced challenges head-on:

- * LGBTQI+ clients of ours who faced obstacle after obstacle accessing the health care services they needed to build their families reached a life-altering settlement. More LGBTQI+ people who hope to expand their families can now begin their journeys with the same access to fertility treatment coverage as heterosexual couples.
- * The Time’s Up Legal Defense Fund, housed at the National Women’s Law Center, supported a class action sex discrimination lawsuit on behalf of 34 women who were wrongfully dismissed from the FBI’s agent training academy. These litigants successfully reached a settlement including both financial compensation and commitments from the Department of Justice to reform aspects of the FBI’s training academy challenged as discriminatory.
- * NWLC advocated for the confirmation of longtime labor law expert, Nicole Berner, who was confirmed to serve on the Fourth Circuit, becoming the first openly LGBTQI+ person confirmed to that court and only the third openly LGBTQI+ woman to serve on the federal appellate bench.

We are witnessing the fruits of confronting the hard problems.

That’s the Power of Us. Grounded in experience, rooted in equality for all, and ready for what’s next.

There is more to do, but I am proud of what we have accomplished, together, and of who we have become. And I am prouder still of who we want to become.

And so, while we wait to see what unfolds over the next few weeks, I encourage you to take a breath. Reach for joy, and let it take hold.

WE’VE GOT THIS.

In solidarity,

Fatima Goss Graves

A special thanks to the many individuals, corporations, law firms, foundations, and organizational partners who generously support the work of NWLC year-round.

STAFF

We are advocates, lawyers, storytellers, researchers, fundraisers, thought leaders, and administrative and financial experts, leading and working together to imagine and build a community that is gender just.

Our multiracial staff and Board are majority women with multiple gender identities and sexual orientations. We are survivors. We are people who have had abortions, who have accessed fertility services, who have used contraception, and who have built a range of family structures, including through pregnancy, chosen family, adoption, and as caregivers.

We are people with disabilities, immigrants, and people who have used and benefited from a range of public assistance programs designed to help families meet their needs. We are people from a range of faith traditions and people without any faith identity.

WE ARE NWLC.

CARE IS ESSENTIAL

The two million members of SEIU, most of whom are women, are proud to celebrate the National Women's Law Center for their unwavering support of child care and care work.

The working women of our diverse union - child care providers, home care workers, nurses, janitors, fast food, airport workers and more - are stronger together in our fight for gender justice.

We thank the National Women's Law Center for their allyship and solidarity and look forward to continuing this important work together. United, we will ensure that all workers are valued and that families and communities thrive for generations to come!

A stylized illustration of a cityscape with various buildings in shades of purple, blue, and brown. In the foreground, there are green trees and bushes. Several people are depicted in a park-like setting: a man in a white shirt and dark pants stands with his back to the viewer, looking towards the city; a woman in a yellow shirt and black pants is running towards the left; a woman in a blue hijab and blue jacket is sitting on the ground; a woman in a green shirt and blue pants is sitting on the ground; and a woman in a purple top and black pants is standing and holding a bottle. There are also some green shopping bags on the ground. The overall style is flat and modern.
